

DEPARTMENT OF THE ARMY
SPECIAL TROOPS BATTALION
UNITED STATES ARMY TRAINING AND DOCTRINE COMMAND
FORT EUSTIS, VIRGINIA 23604

Dear Soldiers and Family members,

On behalf of the Officers, NCOs, Soldiers, and Civilians, welcome to Headquarters, United States Army Training and Doctrine Command and Fort Eustis, Virginia! I'm confident you will find your new assignment both challenging and professionally rewarding. Fort Eustis is located in Virginia's Hampton Roads area, which is known for its large military presence, notable American history and miles of waterfront property and beaches. It's a wonderful place to live and work.

The TRADOC Special Troops Battalion is here to provide command and control of administration, logistics, training, military justice and operations in support of Headquarters, United States Army Training and Doctrine Command at Fort Eustis to enable TRADOC mission success. During your tenure here, you will be challenged to achieve your personal best and enjoy the rewards of being a member of a great team.

You can anticipate contact from your sponsor soon. Your sponsor will be able to facilitate your questions and concerns that you may have about your duty description as well as the local area in order to make your transition to joining our team a smooth one. Start learning about Joint Base Langley-Eustis and the Hampton Roads area. There are many resources available to assist with your transition. Please start by checking out JBLE at <http://www.jble.af.mil/> and TRADOC at <http://www.tradoc.army.mil/>.

I sincerely look forward to your arrival at Fort Eustis and seamless transition to our organization. I am committed to supporting the Soldiers and Families of Headquarters, TRADOC and ensuring your assignment is a good one. Our collective efforts will produce better Leaders, Soldiers, and Civilians employees who continue to give back to our Army while honing their warrior skills and making significant contributions to TRADOC and our mission.

ONWARD TO VICTORY!
